

NEVADA'S INDUSTRIAL NEED

Something for the State to Consider.

The Journal's agitation of the question of establishing a woolen mill here has been taken up by several other papers in the State. Here are some potent arguments advanced by the Tuscarora Times-Review:

While the enterprising citizens of Reno are straining every nerve to establish a woolen mill on the banks of the Truckee, the good, easy going people of Elko, who have never been known to look an inch beyond their noses, are doing the same in the very center of one of the most productive wool growing portions of the State—having the never failing Humboldt river washing the raw material of a motive power for any character of electric works passing slightly by with no thought of its utility. Its banks within leading distance of the Central Pacific railroad—so richly by, content with the few crumbs they may gather from the opportunities nature has so lavishly thrown in their way, and wait for enterprising strangers with less means and more brains to step in and grasp the opportunities long lying dormant within their reach.

Reno is fast becoming a large and populous city, with not one greater advantage than has the town of Elko other than the enterprise of its citizens. When the time comes, as it surely will, that the thoughtless citizens of Elko will be disenchanted from the music of the twenty dollar piece they are now listening and jingling in their pockets, and when they shall have emerged from the clouds of smoke emitted from the Meerschaums behind which they are so contentedly sitting, and see the trainloads of manufactured fabrics—manufactured in no better facilities, within their State—passing to the east and west before their very eyes, their brains will wrack in wonder at their own stupidity. While we are begging on our knees, yea crawling snake fashion, for National government to give us better irrigating facilities for agricultural and mechanical purposes of moistening the land upon which our sheep are grazed, what are we doing with the large streams Nature has placed at our very doors? Why are we sending tons upon tons of the finest wool grown in the United States to crowd the already plethora purses of the wealthy eastern manufacturers? What right have we to complain of the exorbitant rates of railroad companies in transporting our wool to eastern markets? What business sense is displayed in sending it there to be manufactured and returned in fabrics, with their many intermediate costs and profits, for our consumption?

That the manufacturing of woolen goods with the natural facilities presented would be a largely paying industry would be of immense value to our people—that its feasibility is beyond question—these subjects which are no study. A joint stock company could be formed by the citizens of Elko and its immediate vicinity in a surprisingly short time. A consultation of those feeling an interest would expedite matters. We would suggest a meeting in Elko, of those who approve of the idea, at an early date. Late regrets will be useless.

PARSEE HIM-SELF AGAIN

The Prospector Tells His Troubles to The Journal.

Editor Journal: As the day set for my wedding draws nigh I grow more and more tractable—so my friends say. They speak gently to me and cast sympathetic and commiserating glances in my direction. I believe they think that I am losing my nerve and that I am on a fair way to become a hen-pecked hubby.

My chum, Dr. Kerfat, even insinuated yesterday that there wasn't a kick left in me. Since I stopped reforming society, reconstructing the principles of government and revising the statutes of creation's Ruler, since that time, I say, Tom Hymers has been doing just as he pleased. He keeps on meeting twice a month, but what does he accomplish that worth a "wow?"

Why don't he take some of this money that he's blowing in on sewers, cross walks, macadamizing, city park, fire department equipment, alley cleaning and other things that we could do without, and spend it in subsidizing license clerks, preachers and judges so that we could get married without it costing so planned much?

I tell you, I agree with my friend Aleck Tricity that matrimony is the thing and the only thing.

I'm working now to put up a legislative ticket that will pass a law compelling old bachelors to pay all the taxes, old maids to teach in the public schools without pay and giving all parents of fifteen or more children free passes to the State Fair for life. Yours, still a-kicking, PARSEE, The Prospector.

WILL BUILD NEW JAIL

What Was Done by the County and Town Fathers.

The Board of County Commissioners have been in session the past two days. On Monday they passed upon the usual bunch of county bills.

Tuesday the Board voted to invite bids for the construction of a new jail. It will be built on the lot adjoining the county building and will face on Court street. It will be constructed of brick and will contain fifteen cells, including a ward for women and one for boys. It will have accommodations for seventy prisoners, nearly double the capacity of the present jail. The cells will all be constructed of steel.

After the change is made the officers of the auditor and recorder will occupy the present space taken up by the jail and thus more room will be given the treasurer.

The matter of appointing a fire marshal came up. Chairman Holcomb moved that the office be created, that the salary be fixed at $25 per month and that H. J. Thyes be appointed to the position. This motion was seconded by Mr. Frazier. Mr. Hymers moved that the matter be laid over until the next meeting, which was done.

Good News for Reno if it Proves to Be True.

It is strongly rumored that an order has been issued making Reno the end of a railway division for postal clerks. The change is to take place on the 15th. There are about fifteen crews of three or four men each on the road. This will mean an addition to the population of Reno of about fifty men, many of whom have families. Reno is fast becoming a central point on the line between Sacramento and Ogden.

A Capable Official.

Deputy Sheriff Upson has the chain gang drilled like a company of soldiers. They march to and from their work in military fashion. There are now about twenty men in the gang and they are making the dirt fly. More sewers have been laid in Reno with their aid in the past fifteen months that previously existed in this city.

More Woolen Mill Talk.

Carson Appeal: Nearly every day articles appear in the papers of Nevada stating that wool is being shipped to Eastern cities or sent to the coast, where it is disposed of. Why it is necessary to ship this Nevada product to foreign markets is a puzzle. Nevada may not have the people necessary to consume the product, but she has plenty of power to turn mill wheels that could make the woolen fabrics for the East and West.

The greatest drawback in this State is the fact that nearly everything consumed is imported. A big woolen mill in operation on any of the streams in this State would give employment to an army of men and bring foreign money into the State. While the Eastern capitalists are looking over the ground for mining investment they had better take a look at the prospects for a woolen mill. They would take no chances in this game as Nevada wool heads the world.

A PLEA MADE FOR EXHIBITS

Now Is the Time to Advertise the State.

The mineral and agricultural resources of Nevada are attracting more attention today than at any period during the past twenty years, and men with money in their pockets are here from different sections of the United States, says the Dispatch. Every street corner ornament and barroom bum can gas of some money-making scheme, but investment seekers are looking for something tangible, and that is material only in the very products of the farm and the range and the mine.

Our hay, grains, fruits, vegetables, horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, gold, silver and copper ores should be exhibited by the men who own them if Nevada's resources are to be developed. Perhaps we are willing to do this, but if so, it is patent that we are organized but in one way and that is the State Fair.

We lack system and we lack pride, and worst of all we are too d—lazy to spend a day or a part of a day and too cussed mean to spend a part of a dollar to gather up the best of what we have and ship it to Reno for exhibit. If anything is done we are willing to let the other fellow do it or shove it all on the officers of the State Fair, who work for months for no salary and lots of worry and simply because they are decent, progressive citizens, with some spirit, who will help you to obtain the best churches, schools and luxuries of society and civilization for you and your children.

Get on your thinking cap and get a move on yourself, take on some local pride and respectability, and select your agricultural and mineral specimens and ship them to Reno. If the newspaper man pays a livery bill and sends his time and money to try to get you to help out, don't act as if he was asking for your life or your pocketbook, but hand over your exhibits and grin and bear that part of the cruelty imposed on you.

If you are surly and sulky and swear at him he'll stand it, because somebody who knows says he's only a door-mat for the public anyhow and used to little rations and big kicks.

THE NEW HOIST IS IN POSITION

All Ready to Smoke up as Soon as the Stack Arrives.

Pr. J. Caffrey, who has the contract for putting up the new hoisting works at the Reno Star mine, has nearly completed his task. The hoist is in position and the engine and boiler are set up. The shaft house is finished and the only thing lacking is the smoke stack, which has not yet arrived. If it comes within the next day or two the whistle of another steam hoist will ring out its welcome notes in Wedekind City.

The sinking pump is already in place and soon the big mine in Reno's lively suburb will be producing a couple of carloads of bonanza ore per day. When all the levels are far enough advanced the Sparks Mining Company will be one of the biggest employers of skilled labor in the State. A site has been purchased for the smelter and by spring the ore will be worked on the ground.

Have Returned to this City.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Phillips came up from San Francisco last evening. The doctor is quite sick at C. J. Brooks' residence; he had a serious disease of the stomach for a number of months before he left Reno and it was partly this that influenced him to sell out and discontinue the practice of medicine. He thought a few months rest at the sea coast would set him right, but the climate there did not agree with him at all, so he has steadily grown worse all summer. His physicians told him he must come back to the mountains if he wished to get well. He has come up to Reno to get the mountain air and to be among his friends.

Another of Reno's Sweet Singers.

Miss Hattie Ede goes to study voice culture in San Francisco at the Crandall Studio. This is Miss Ede's second year of study and she returns with a bright promise of success. MINING MAN FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Resumption of Work Will not Begin Until the Cruel War is Over.

R. M. Catlin, formerly of Tuscarora, but for years a resident of South Africa, passed through Reno Monday evening from Virginia City to San Francisco. Mr. Catlin is general manager of a dozen or more claims owned by the Consolidated Gold Company of London.

The deepest shaft in Johannesburg is 700 feet in depth. It is on the Jupiter mine and is known as the Catlin shaft.

Mr. Catlin will return to South Africa within a few months, although he says that there is no prospect for reopening the mines until the war is over, as the Boers make transportation almost impossible on the railroad to Johannesburg, or at least make themselves so troublesome that it is with the greatest difficulty sustenance supplies even can be obtained.

A Product of the Alamo Ranch.

Carson Anceal: Walter Chedie had a calf hung up in his shop Sunday, that weighed 264 pounds. It was a grade Hereford and was but three months old when it went to the block.

The animal came originally from John Sparks' stock, Washoe county, and it would seem impossible to beat this remarkable showing.

This teaches beef raisers to get first-class stock. When you can turn in a three-month's calf which dresses 300 pounds it pays to raise such animals. It cost no more to feed such stock than it does scrub stock and the results make such a magnificent showing that one can scarcely credit it. No breed of cattle ever raised can surpass such results.

Traffic Blocked By Bridge Work.

Street Commissioner Brown had a big force of men engaged yesterday repairing the Virginia street iron bridge. The old flooring was removed from the north end of the bridge and relaid. Two inch plank was first laid diagonally and then topped with four inch timbers. The braces will all be tightened and the present vibration of the structure will cease.

INACCURACIES IN NEWSPAPERS.

IT IS a common matter for readers of daily papers to condemn the managers for inaccuracy in their news columns. Little excuse is made for those mistakes and little patience shown with the management. In commenting on certain proceedings in a New York court recently, one of the great journals of that city very aptly says: "Every reputable paper makes it a rule to discharge any employee who deliberately imposes upon it with a false statement, but in spite of all precautions such impositions do sometimes occur, and innocent mistakes occur sometimes too."

"If you have a dozen witnesses on oath in court describing things they personally saw, half of them will contradict the rest. If you have half a dozen experts testifying to the conclusions of science on a matter in dispute, they will give you diametrically opposite conclusions. If you have as many historians sitting in the calm of university libraries to write out at their leisure their accounts of the same historical event, no two of them will be likely to agree."

"Therefore it is not very surprising that when a day's history of the world, fired in at Maxim gun speed by 500 reporters and correspondents, is put to press sizzling hot there will occasionally be found in it a statement in which more leisurely investigation can find flaws. But it may be said with absolute confidence that the number of misstatements in any first class newspaper is as small as the utmost vigilance and unremitting care can make it."

The same comments will apply with even greater force to less pretentious daily papers published in smaller communities. The duties of a reporter on a daily, in a town the size of Reno for instance, are greater and harder to perform than on any metropolitan first class journal. On the latter every reporter has his own particular department of news soliciting, and as it is routine work with him, he soon becomes accustomed to it and is familiar with its details. Under these conditions he is far less liable to mistakes than the all around reporter of a country paper whose multifarious duties bring him in contact with all classes of men, and whose "department" embraces a little of everything that is parceled out among perhaps too men on a paper published in a populous city. As a rule we believe there are fewer inaccuracies proportionately in the smaller papers than in the mammoth dailies of the large cities, although the excess ought to be the other way, considering the conditions under which the reporters work is done.

We are furthermore confident that lawyers, doctors and all professional and business men make more mistakes in their particular lines, than do the newspaper men in their business of disseminating of news. But the former generally escape criticism, while the smallest mistake on the part of the latter is magnified to the proportions, almost of a crime.

AS A GEOGRAPHY TEACHER.

WHILE The Journal's mission is one of peace and it is an ardent advocate of international and national compulsory arbitration as a substitute for war between nations and conflicts between capital and labor, it will acknowledge that there is one small beneficial result from wars, and that is, it is the most efficient method of teaching the public a knowledge of geography. For want of better argument that comment and claim has been widely made of late, and so far as it goes it is well founded. It is truthfully pointed out that the reading public knew very little of Cuba, Porto Rico, the Philippines, South Africa or China, as regards their cities, rivers and other natural features, five years ago, but now all of these things are familiarly accurate, and it is contended that there is a compensation, slight perhaps, but nevertheless certain, in bringing to the knowledge of the world the physical characteristics of other countries and lands and many other facts. But it is not remarked that such information is disseminated by any other form of great disaster; the condition of the navigable waters in the vicinity of Alaska, because of the sinking of the Islander; more of Galveston because of the disaster that came to her several months ago, and so of whatever locality that has been affected by serious catastrophe, whether of fire, flood, famine, cyclone or earthquake. The destructiveness of war is a fearful costly way of teaching geography, just as the teaching of it through physical disturbances over which man has no control. If war is to be to any extent justified by such an incident to its prosecution, to a greater extent are those other forms of disaster justified, because it is the folly and wickedness of man, rather than his wisdom, that cause war, which can be avoided if he so wishes.

ACCORDING to the Appeal, Judge Hawley's refusal to dissolve the temporary injunction in the Bell-Wedekind case was for the reason that the proceedings were not properly brought, nor at the proper time. The case, we understand, will be brought up again in a few days, when the question of jurisdiction will be decided, and if in the affirmative, the injunction matter will also probably be decided.

AT HIS OLD BUSINESS.

THE brilliant rhetoric which Mr. Henry Watterson employs makes his oratory fascinating. When inspired he could write a pathetically sentimental ode to a pig-sty. The public generally cares but little about the sentiment, but much about the style. The Louisville editor furnishes entertainment, but not much useful information and he is particularly unsafe to follow as a political guide or prophet.

Mr. Watterson is at present engaged in reading Mr. Bryan out of the Democratic party and in addition to this he couples the task with a prophecy of defeat if he does not succeed. This is not the first time that Mr. Watterson has essayed the role of prophet. In 1892 he read Mr. Cleveland out of the party and leagues away from its borders. Before the convention he had another candidate and when Mr. Cleveland was nominated, he prophesied that the Democratic party would "march through a slaughter-house to an open grave," but four or five months later Mr. Cleveland marched from New York to Washington and into the White House, whose doors were "open" to receive him. This is one of the many instances which demonstrate the ability of Mr. Watterson as a prophet. If anyone is ambitious to gain a reputation as a political prophet he has only to read Mr. Watterson's predictions and "copper" them.

INDISCRIMINATE ABUSE.

IF DEMOCRATIC ORGANS will confine their editorial utterances to the upholding of Democratic doctrines they will not have space to abuse and decry men who were supporting democratic platforms and candidates when some of the loudest advocates of reorganization were supporting the republican ticket.—Commoner.

True as gospel. And it is equally true that certain Democratic papers we could mention, would render better service to their party by filling their space with other matter than abuse of men who stood by their colors, although differing with the majority upon a single principle set forth in the national platform. In our opinion such men are entitled to praise for their fidelity, instead of censure for their mistaken opinion upon a single issue. Those men should not be classed with the traitors, who ignored the majority rule and went over to the camp of the enemy. We are sorry to say that some anti-republican papers, including one in Nevada that makes no such distinction but abuses them all alike—which is poor principle and bad policy.

STARVATION by slow degrees and widespread suffering among the people for want of subsistence is yet reported from the eastern part of Porto Rico. And yet the island has been enjoying the blessing of American dominion for nearly three years!

IF IN the court of inquiry Admiral Schley shall be proven guilty of winning the victory at Santiago, which appears to be the general belief, what sentence can be devised commensurate with the crime?

PRESS COMMENTS.

An Iowa man won a valuable town site claim in Oklahoma, selling his right for $10,000, and this enabled him to win the heart of a handsome California girl. There is some truth in the saying that marriage is a lottery.

The Reno Journal wishes to know why Admiral Sampson is to be represented by counsel before the Schley court of inquiry. We presume it is in order that Sampson may prove his alibi as far as the Santiago battle is concerned.—Silver State.

Mrs. Nation hasn't had a fair show in New York. The police commissioner sent word to her: "If you violate the laws, I'll have you locked up." What could the poor girl do but be good under the circumstances? There is an undoubted prejudice in Gotham against Kansas.—Salt Lake Herald.

General Fred Grant says that the Filipino is full of fun and has a keen sense of humor. This statement prompts the Chicago Chronicle to suggest that the exquisite humor of the civil government at Manila will not be lost on him then.

New York has more women than men, and judging from the things they are finding out in their police investigation the place might be improved if the figures in favor of the women were still greater.

The sultan has resumed the business of wiping out Armenians, probably just to let the powers understand that he still has confidence in them.—Chicago Herald.

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT

Some Object Lessons
In Good Road Making.

Experience has shown that nothing so much teaches the value of good roads as good roads themselves. A smooth, even, hard-surfaced highway tells its own story. When a farmer, teamster or traveler drives over such a road he realizes at once the difference between the good and the bad. The gain in the drawing capacity of teams, and in the speed and comfort of travel, over a first-class highway, is too great not to be at once immediately realized and appreciated.

Similarly the art of road making is best taught by object lessons. One demonstration of the right way to go about it is vastly better than pages of description. The National Good Roads Association, aided by the Illinois Central Railroad and the Office of Public Road Inquiries at Washington, has recently given this sort of instruction in the States of Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky and Illinois. A "good roads train" was run, thoroughly equipped with the best modern machinery and apparatus used in road making, and in accordance with previous announcements stops were made at designated points, where a section of road was made in the presence of the assembled spectators. In this way over twenty miles of earth, gravel and stone roads were built. These sections of good road remain as encouraging examples of what all public highways ought to be. The "good roads" train everywhere excited much interest and no little enthusiasm in regard to road improvement.

In furtherance of the movement for better roads an international good roads congress will meet at Buffalo on September 16th, when there will be actual demonstration of road building, using such materials as earth, oil, gravel, stone, tar-macadam, vitrified brick, etc. This should serve to enlist greater public interest in the subject of road improvement, and as an educator must lead to good results.

There is no state in which there is more need of road betterment than California. With the exception of a few counties about the Bay of San Francisco the public highways of this state are in general very poor. While great sums of money are annually spent upon the roads, nearly all of it goes for merely temporary improvement, so that in the long run it may be said to be mainly wasted. There is little actual road building, most of the work being in the form of scraping and smoothing earth roads. A good piece of first class macadam road is such a rarity outside of municipal limits that the traveler is surprised to find it.

The law should require at least a certain percentage of road money to be expended in permanent work in each county. Another great need is the constant care of the roads. Men should be hired by the year to give daily inspection to the roads, and to make immediate repairs, just as is done on the railroads. It is perfectly ridiculous that chuck-holes and broken planks in bridges are left untouched for many months in the year, awaiting the time of the next annual burlesque of road work.

AUGUST FLOWER.

"It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Houston, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy, for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headache and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." Sample bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson.

Sold by all dealers in all civilized countries.

PIANOS ON EASY TERMS.

And at prices to suit any one. The prices range from two hundred and twenty-five dollars up—twenty-five dollars down and the balance in ten-dollar monthly installments.

These pianos are all fully guaranteed and have the latest improved action and are the style upright. No one on earth sells better pianos or better-toned pianos, or gives more value for the money than C. J. Brookins. Brookins has lived and sold pianos in Reno for thirty years. Why not buy your piano of Professor Brookins, who knows all about pianos and has made them a great study for thirty years? Call at 224 Virginia street, C. J. Brookins' store.

STOOD DEATH OFF.

E. B. Lundy, a lawyer of Henrietta, Tex., once fooled a grave-digger. He says "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued their use until he was wholly cured. I am sure Electric Bitters saved his life." This remedy expels malaria, kills disease germ and purifies the blood; aids digestion, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervous complaints, kidney troubles, female complaints, gives perfect health. Only 50 cents at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

A SHOCKING CALAMITY.

"Lately befell a railroad laborer," writes Dr. A. Kelleit, of Willford, Ark. "His foot was badly crushed, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly cured him. It's simply wonderful for Burns, Boils, Piles and all skin eruptions. It's the world's champion healer. Cure guaranteed. 25 cents. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson, druggist."

W. Schur, the artist tailor, began business in Reno in a small way a year and a half ago and has built up a splendid trade. He is a tailor for a splendid trade. Baby's Coming

McDonald, Ga., July 18, 1900.
I advise every suffering woman to take Wine of Cardui. While I was going with my other children I was compelled to stay in bed for days at a time, but this time I have taken Wine of Cardui and Theodore's Black-Draught and have been able to do all my housework without any trouble. I am expecting every day to be a mother. My husband thinks Wine of Cardui is the best medicine in the world. He has used a dose of Theodore's Black-Draught every night and gives some to the children. He has not lost a day from work this year. He tells his friends about your wonderful medicines and I tell my lady friends to use your Wine of Cardui.
Mrs. GEORGIA LEE.

WINE OF CARDUI

There are thousands of women who shrink in terror at the thought of the baby's coming. But childbirth is one of the workings of Nature and it was not intended to imply torture and agony to the heroic mothers of the race. The woman who suffers torture during pregnancy and at childbirth has usually, by some indication, injured the organs which make her a woman. Neglect of menstrual irregularities leads to ovarian pains, falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and the period of pregnancy is necessarily distressing under those conditions. Wine of Cardui will regulate the menstrual function perfectly and eventually make the generative organs strong and healthy. Pregnancy and childbirth have no terrors for the woman who takes this pure Wine. A strong healthy womb will bring its precious burden to maturity with little or no pain. A healthy woman need not fear childbirth. Wine of Cardui completely cures all these troubles familiarly known as "female diseases" and equips the sensitive generative organs for pregnancy and childbirth. It will save any mother much pain and suffering. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles.

AN ELECTRIC RAILWAY ACROSS THE SIERRAS

Proposition to Build a Trolley Line from Salt Lake to Tidewater.

Senator Clark, the Montana Copper King, may have a railroad line in Sacramento in the near future. He already has surveys in the field, and they are now in the vicinity of Placerville, picking out a route between old Hangtown and Lake Tahoe. It is intended that the new road shall skirt the lake for a considerable distance, says the Bee.

A prominent railroad man said to a Bee reporter that the Senator does not intend to climb the mountains or trail over the wide and wild sandy deserts with an iron horse. He intends to be right up-to-date. It is his plan to run an electric railroad from Salt Lake City, Utah, to San Francisco, and as the line has been mapped out it will run through Sacramento.

The road is to be devoted exclusively to passenger traffic, and as it will aim to make great speed it will set the

The crew which has been running the combined harvest on W. C. Pitt's ranch is about through with the wheat run. There were 10 acres in wheat, and the average yield will be about 30 bushels to the acre.—Argus.

The ranchers near the second crop of alfalfa in Humboldt county, good, even heavier than in 1909, and the harvest will not be as great as was anticipated.

Several head of cattle have died in Lovelock Valley within the past week on drinking stagnant water from the loushes. The water is now to poison them and they die within a few hours after drinking it.

Under the provisions of the State Tax Assessor J. B. Williamson on last Thursday sold 175 of the 1900 sheep owned in Elko Valley to satisfy the arrearage on the bunch of 2000 or more of the year 1901. The sheep were the property of the Elko Creek Farm and the Stock Company of Utah, and for sometime past they have been ranging in the vicinity of Elko Valley. The owners had failed to pay either taxes or license in this county as required by law.—White Pine News.

"But you know, children," said the Sunday school teacher, who had been talking of the soul's immortality, "that when we die it is only our bodies that are buried."

"I see, sir," queried a small pupil, "what do they do with our heads?"

"Mamma," said three-year-old Margie, "I have grandpa so much that when I grow up I'm going to marry him."

"Why, dear," replied the astonished mother, "you can't do that. He's my father."

"Well, what if he is," retorted Margie, "You married my father, didn't you?"

"What did Columbus discover?" asked the teacher of the juvenile class.

"The Atlantic Ocean," answered the small boy at the foot of the class.

"How do you know that?" asked the teacher.

"Because," replied the youthful student, "my books says he came across it."

MAKING SOLDIERS OUT OF INDIANS.

(From the Detroit Free Press.)
An army officer now stationed in New York, referring to military life on border, tells a good story of how General Bankhead once set out to make Indians soldiers in the regular army. The Indians, be it known, were not well up in English, or, rather, if at all confused, they forgot the pale face language; but General Bankhead was determined they should do duty as soldiers, stand guard, call out the hours, and do all that a white sentry did.

When the general got them, as he believed, well coached, he gave an entertainment at this headquarters one night to the officers and their families, and at 12 o'clock all were to listen to the calls of the Indian sentinels. At the appointed time headquarters was as still as a graveyard, and soon the "All's well" cry began to go round, and as follows:

"Pos' nomb." Two time—twelve clocks—all right!

This was fairly good for an Indian, but the next sentinel forgot his call, and did the best he could with what English he could grasp, after this style:

"Pos' nomb—old Bankhead—heapfool—go to hell—all right!"

A wild shout of laughter drowned the call of the next sentinel, but it was about the same, and that was the last of General Bankhead's Indian sentinels.
